February is Practice Month Here's info ...

In keeping with our tradition of having a special emphasis each month, February has been billed practice month. All month we will be discussing ways in which to maximize your students practice time at home. At home please reinforce the concept of "working in threes" 1) What needs to get better? 2) How am I going to get it better? 3) Did it get better? If it did get better go on; if it did not, repeat the steps using a different strategy for #2.

I would encourage you to take 30 minutes this month and sit with your child as they practice. If not that, then ask them to show you how they practice.

Progress Report - Fall 2002

Dear Parent/s: 20 November 2002

Greetings from the orchestra room. I have been most impressed with the work that many of the orchestra students have been doing. Our record enrollment is encouraging though it is the individual work of the students that make for a quality experience. It is the work and practice habits of your student that this progress report will address.

Students need continued encouragement to practice. Help your orchestra student establish a regular time and place for practicing that works in your family's schedule. Monitor your child's practice on a regular basis to ensure that it is getting done. Talk with your child about the need for practice, and set up mutually agreed upon goals and rewards. The goals should be clear and attainable. Please sign your student's practice sheet which is stapled to the inside front cover of their method book. If you are interested in having your child begin private lessons, please see me.

Thanks to the many parents and family members who came to our annual Orchestra Parents Night on November 14th. Although we won't be making a CD anytime soon it was encouraging to see so many of you present. If by chance you were not able to attend and would like a lesson on your son or daughter's instrument, please give me a call and we can set an informal lesson up.

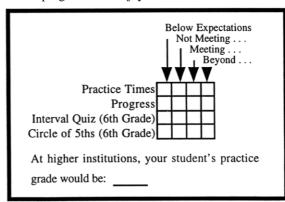

Each month a copy of our monthly newsletter* Scrolls & Pegs is sent to your home. Please take a moment to note the happenings of our Elementary Orchestra as this is the only way I have of communicating with the orchestra families.

Three dates that I would like you to be aware of are: February 2 - Annual Orchestra Sliding Party, March 6 - Winter Concert, March 28 - Orchestra trip to Minnesota Orchestra. Please mark these dates on your calendars.

Please know that you are always most welcome to call with any question, suggestions, or concerns. I love working with your children and am most interested in their continued progress and enjoyment.

Sincerely,

Brian Cole bcole@moorhead.k12.mn.us 284-6431 (w)
